I. ARIZONA EARLY INTERVENTION PROGRAM (AzEIP)

The Arizona Early Intervention Program (AzEIP) is a statewide system of early intervention services for families of infants and toddlers, from birth through two years of age, with developmental disabilities or delays. Access to services can enhance the capacity of families and caregivers to support the learning and growth of the child. AzEIP is governed by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Part C - Early Intervention Program for Infants and Toddlers with Disabilities. Federal oversight is by the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP). AzEIP uses a Central Referral Agency, Raising Special Kids (RSK), to assign and track all referrals.

Team-Based Early Intervention

In Arizona, a Team-Based approach is used to provide early intervention services. AzEIP contracts with private Team-Based Early Intervention Services (TBEIS) providers to provide individualized support to all potentially-eligible and eligible children and their families within a given geographic region in Arizona. TBEIS providers work collaboratively with the Division of Developmental Disabilities (DDD) and the Arizona State Schools for the Deaf and the Blind (ASDB) for children eligible for these service providing agencies. The team includes family members and specialists who focus on implementing jointly developed functional outcomes in natural environments.

Interagency Coordinating Council (ICC) for Infants and Toddlers

The ICC advises and assists AzEIP and its partner agencies to administer, promote, coordinate, and improve early intervention for families and professionals. The ICC works closely with the Department of Economic Security (DES) to ensure all areas of IDEA Part C are implemented. The ICC and subcommittees are open to the public. If interested, please email: azicc@azdes.gov.

Contact Arizona Early Intervention Program

VI. CHILD SUPPORT SERVICES

The Arizona Division of Child Support Services (DCSS) provides services to parents and caretakers who receive child support as well as to parents who pay child support. Some of the services include obtaining a child support order, collecting medical support for a child, spousal support from parents who have a court order, and helping unwed parents establish paternity for their children.

Collection and Distribution of Child Support Payments

DCSS collects monies from the Noncustodial Parent (NCP) and distributes payment to the Custodial Parent (CP), the state, or other jurisdictions based on an established court order.
Establishment of Paternity for Children Born Out of Wedlock

Paternity must be established before any child support court order can be enforced or established. DCSS has the Hospital Paternity Program (HPP) which collaborates between DCSS and Arizona’s hospitals, birthing entities, and the Arizona Bureau of Vital Records. HPP works to provide parentage services for unmarried couples immediately following the birth of their child through an Acknowledgement of Paternity process. If paternity is uncertain, DCSS offers genetic testing. If one party is uncooperative, DCSS can refer the case to the Assistant Attorney General’s Office for a court hearing.

Establishment of Child Support Orders

Establishing a court order sets a monthly amount of money to be provided by a parent for the support of the children and/or the responsibility to provide health insurance or medical support for the children. A child support obligation may include a judgment for past child support or a judgment on unpaid child support arrears.

Modification and Enforcement of Child Support Orders

Either parent may request a modification of their existing child support order when there has been a significant and continuing change within the household, such as adding or changing health insurance, a loss of a job, disability, or an increase or decrease in income for either parent. Only an ongoing child support obligation can be modified. DCSS has the ability to take enforcement remedies to obtain a child support payment. Examples of those remedies include garnishment of wages, seizure of assets, liens placed on assets, denial of U.S. passports, tax refund intercepts, etc. DCSS also enforces child support orders from other states when the NCP resides or works in Arizona.

Locating a Noncustodial Parent

DCSS helps locate absent parents who live in Arizona, and works with other agencies to locate NCPs in other states. Local, state, and federal information is used to find where the NCP lives or works.
