Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program

I. POLICY STATEMENT

The Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP or Program) assists households with low incomes in meeting their immediate home energy needs, particularly those with the lowest incomes that pay a high proportion of household income for home energy. The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), Administration for Children and Families (ACF), administers LIHEAP at the federal level. LIHEAP is a federal block grant funded program, giving states broad latitude to develop programs that assist low income households to meet their energy needs in accordance with LIHEAP guidance. The Arizona Department of Economic Security (DES), Division of Community Assistance and Development (DCAD), administers LIHEAP for the state of Arizona in accordance with applicable federal guidance, the Arizona LIHEAP State Plan, and this Policy. Arizona utilizes a direct-service, Navigator model for the distribution of LIHEAP benefits. Community Navigators, which work through state-designated Community Action Agencies (CAA) or other community partners, perform outreach and assist Applicants in understanding LIHEAP and completing applications. DES contracts with CAAs and community partners, receives and adjudicates applications, and disperses LIHEAP benefits. A LIHEAP applicant may apply online, using a paper application, or telephonically with the assistance of a Community Navigator or directly to DES.
