The Pima Council on Aging (PCOA) Area Agency on Aging facilitated the creation of a Pima County Fall Prevention Coalition with Pima County Public Health Nurses, University of Arizona Center on Aging, Valley Assistance Services, Adult Protective Services, Community Home Repair Projects of Arizona, Interfaith Community Services and nine Fire Districts participating.  The Coalition has considered the Green Valley SHIM program as a model for conducting in-home assessments and also explored ways to coordinate with hospitals to identify at-risk patients prior to discharge and identified the need for a fall prevention public awareness campaign to address this health concern.  The Coalition meets every other month and membership is still expanding.

The Pinal-Gila Council for Senior Citizens Area Agency on Aging collaborated with other community agencies to front an initiative to provide information on available agency resources, including Home and Community Based Services and Federal health Insurance programs to the volunteers of the Maricopa Police Department.  Specific training was provided on serving home-bound older adults with an emphasis on proper communication and client confidentiality.  The volunteers were members of the newly formed group called YANA, which stands for  You Are Not Alone  Senior Outreach Program. YANA s main objective is to reach and inform functionally limited and homebound older adults in the City of Maricopa.

The Inter Tribal Council of Arizona (ITCA) Area Agency on Aging partnered with the ITCA-Tribal Epidemiology Center to complete Home and Community Based Services assessment projects with nine Tribes in Arizona.  The purpose of the project was to gain first-hand knowledge and insight regarding client satisfaction from elders participating in the service.  The study produced useful data regarding client satisfaction, strengths, weaknesses, and opportunities.  From the information gathered, ITCA Area Agency on Aging was able to contribute program service recommendations and training opportunities for each tribal community.

. The Pima Council on Aging (PCOA) Area Agency on Aging participated in a Panel entitled Aging Perspectives and Respectful Care Environments for LGBTQ Adults at the Statewide Arizona Geriatrics Society Conference, Building Bridges and Embracing Humanity," and described Project Visibility trainings there. PCOA also presented issues and an overview of Project Visibility, in facilitating a workshop on Creating Welcoming Environments for LGBT and Two-Spirited Older People at the National Indian Council on Aging Conference in Phoenix. This was co-presented with the Senior Director of Public Policy and Communications of SAGE (national Services and Advocacy for GLBT Elders), and a volunteer from Wingspan Senior Pride.
PCOA received a grant from the LGBT&S Alliance Fund for the second year in a row to cover costs for printing the training manual and office supplies for the Project Visibility trainings. An interview on Project Visibility was published in the Southwest Folk Alliance Continuum: Multicultural Practices in Grief and End of Life, and articles have been included in Southern Arizona Senior Forum Newsletter and PCOA s Never Too Late.

The Inter Tribal Council of Arizona (ITCA) Area Agency on Aging worked with the ITCA-Tribal Epidemiology Center to create an Elder Abuse awareness brochure in December 2014. A thousand copies were distributed to tribal long-term care ombudsman programs to promote community awareness of elder abuse. Another 400 brochures were distributed during outreach events held during our 26th Annual Arizona Indian Council on Aging Conference. The pamphlet is a useful educational tool and resource for residents, elders and families on defining abuse, the types of abuse and how to report elder abuse. The pamphlet is used during facility visits and local community education sessions. We continue to print and distribute copies, when funding allows. The pamphlet is posted and available to print, as a public resource on the ITCA website.

Two elder law attorneys in collaboration with Community Partnership of Southern Arizona and PCOA, offered, on three occasions, a workshop called Adult Guardianship: A Free Workshop for Families . The Probate Court had expressed concern over the large number of people trying to do guardianships by themselves, not having the proper paperwork or filing on time and not clearly understanding what being a guardian meant. This educational do-it-yourself guardianship workshop provided information on the responsibilities of adult guardianship, the process for obtaining guardianship, and whether a lawyer was required or needed. The size of each workshop was limited to approximately 25 so the third session was videotaped to make the information accessible to a greater audience. Two versions - a short highlights version and the entire workshop version- are available on the PCOA website at pcoa.org.
