HAND WASHING

HAND WASHING: Washing your hands with soap and water is one of the easiest and most effective ways to stay healthy and to stop illness and infections from spreading to you and others.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Soap does not kill germs; it makes the skin slick, causing germs to slide off under running water (scrubbing for 20 seconds is needed).
- According to the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), a recent study showed that only 31% of men and 65% of women washed their hands after using a public restroom.

BE ALERT!

The CDC has materials, videos, and tools to improve hand washing at your site.

RISK FACTORS

When should you wash your hands?

- Before, during, and after preparing food
- Before and after eating food
- Before and after caring for someone who is sick
- Before and after treating a cut or wound
- After using the toilet
- After changing diapers or cleaning up a child or adult who has used the toilet
- After blowing your nose, coughing, or sneezing
- After touching an animal or animal waste
- After handling pet food or pet treats
- After touching garbage
- When hands are visibly dirty

What if soap and water are not available?

- Soap and water are the best way to reduce the number of germs on hands.
- When soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol. Hand sanitizers can quickly reduce the number of germs on hands, but sanitizers do not eliminate all types of germs.

Hand Sanitizers are not as effective when hands are visibly dirty!

How do you use hand sanitizers?

1. Apply the sanitizer to the palm of one hand.
2. Rub your hands together.
3. Rub the sanitizer over all surfaces of your hands and fingers until your hands are dry.
